OPINIONS OF THE PRESS ON PART ONE.

(From the Musical World.)

... "There is little fault to be found with the works before us. They are varied in style, but each of its kind is a meritorious piece. ... A valuable work for all classes of musicians."

(From the Choir and Musical Record.)

... "The first number contains five pieces, melodious, animated, and all adapted to the genius of the instrument."

(From the Western Times.)

... "Dr. Spark's name is a guarantee that all the compositions appearing in the Journal will be well worthy of the position which he holds in his profession. The work supplies a long-felt want—that of giving, periodically, original and modern compositions for this noble instrument."

(From the Yorkshire Gazette.)

... "We can strongly recommend the work, both to professors and amateurs."

(From the Yorkshire Post and Leeds Intelligencer.)

... "This is a praiseworthy undertaking, and we have to congratulate Dr. Spark on a publication at once so good and so classical."

(From the Leeds Express.)

... "It is the most valuable and the most interesting publication for the Organ which has ever been issued from the press. That the Journal will become a standard and popular work there is no doubt."

(From the Choirmaster.)

"The contents of the first number of the Organist's Quarterly Journal show clearly that Dr. Spark is alive to the benefit that may accrue to organ music in England, from letting in upon it the current of modern continental thought in this province of the art. Dr. Spark may congratulate himself on this the first number of the Organist's Quarterly Journal."

(From the Musical Times.)

"It was not a little pleasant to find that the comparative dearth of compositions for the organ by English writers, was about to be succeeded by—if not absolute plenty—at least a sufficiency for the time being; also that the production of Englishmen and foreigners were to appear side by side, an arrangement that could not fail to have the most beneficial effect upon English art. Now that the first number is before us, our satisfaction is complete; for not only are the contributions as a rule of a high order, but the English element stands out in a most gratifying relief."

All Subscriptions to be paid Half-yearly in advance to the Publishers, Novello, Ewer and Co., who have the sole management of the sale and distribution of copies, &c. Communications respecting Compositions to be addressed to the Editor, Springfield Villa, Leeds.

WARMED PIANOS and HARMONIUMS.—(G. PRICE'S PATENT.)—These Instruments invite playing in Winter, when the coldness of the keys of all others makes it unnecessarily uncomfortable, if not painful, to many, especially children. They encourage practice, and facilitate execution, by a gentle warmth rising from two small hot-water cylinders, of only the diameter of a wine-glass, hidden under their ends, easily handled, and giving a temperature never above "blood heat," and averaging "summer heat" for three hours. Comfort and perfect suppleness of hands are thus ensured; practice becomes inviting; pupils willing; the masters time economised; progress uninterrupted; general playing agreeable; and the Piano an article of unmixed pleasure, and most useful, when, in winter, from the absence of out-door amusements, it is most wanted, but is now most avoided. This improvement is particularly applicable to Harmoniums; the cold air rising from the keys being shut off, and a warm air being supplied instead. A thermometer bulb inserted in a key shews a maximum warmth below "summer heat," injurious neither to wood nor glue, whilst the quicksilver of one near the wire and action of Pianos remains stationary. The tone and mechanism are, therefore, not affected. These advantages, and a great saving in fires, may be obtained at the cost of a little warm water, and a very trifling outlay. The warmed Piano—warmth, tone and action guaranteed—may be tested by the trade with thermometers; and, made by the London Pianoforte Company, may be had at the Patentees, 184, Regent-street, from 25 guineas upwards, as well as warmed Harmoniums at the usual prices. Pianos and Harmoniums adjusted with the Warmers, £3 10s.; Licenses to "make or alter," £1 per instrument. An Organ Manual, by Messrs. Hill, Euston-road, may be seen so adjusted. Directions, drawings and particulars, sent at request.

TO be SOLD, an Excellent Double Action HARP, by Erard. Price £25. To be seen at Mr. Holloway's Music Dépôt, St. Ives, Hunts.
